LinkCommand Offers Free Professional Link Management

Text

LinkCommand is a new service available to all professional webmasters and SEO companies desiring a truly professional Link-Management resource. Although there are other link management alternatives, LinkCommand distinguishes itself in several distinctive ways.

The most obvious difference is that LinkCommand is not associated with a link farm or link directory. Its purpose is simple: offer a professional method of managing inbound and outbound links for your website.

LinkCommand has paid special attention to search engines and claims a ZERO/ZERO footprint. Other link management services leave a specific “signature” on each link page typically in the form of an advertisement for their services or the same link submission text on all their subscribers pages. In contrast, LinkCommand offers users the ability to customize the link submission text and produces this text through an off-page javascript file. In this way, there is no unique or traceable “signature” on LinkCommand pages.

Another unique feature is how LinkCommand manages links. All other link management services allow users to manage and validate links to and from a single link partner. But LinkCommand goes a step further and allows users to manage 1way, 2way, and 3way links. So LinkCommand allows users to manage link relationships between multiple websites.

Most link management services allow users to classify link partners into categories. LinkCommand has adopted the Google categorization scheme and allows users to add sub-categories to fit their specific market needs.

LinkCommand is free. Where as the authors plan to offer a subscription based value added service in the future, the basic services are free and available to webmasters and SEO companies that manage general content websites. Note that the terms of use do exclude casino and other over 18 websites.

Users may choose between two methods of updating link pages. FTP access is the most often used method, but users may choose to receive updated HTML pages by email and then post modified pages manually.

Visit LinkCommand to read about these additional features:

- On-Demand link verification
- Manage multiple Sites / Campaigns from a single account – Ideal for Webmasters.
- Comprehensive on-line help / users manual
- Strict Privacy Policy

LinkCommand is a Etica Entertainment, Inc. company serving the internet community. Its flagship services include TruePath web hosting for the value conscious market.
